

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASEPAR PixelPoint Certifies BIXOLON !

BIXOLON Headquarters, Korea, — June 11, 2009 - PAR Pixelpoint (“PixelPoint”), a leading developer of restaurant and hospitality POS (point of sale) software, today announced the addition of BIXOLON to its list of certified POS hardware options.

PixelPoint channel partners and end users can trust with confidence the compatibility of the BIXOLON SRP-275 impact receipt printer and SRP-350plus thermal receipt printer. Both printers deliver high speed printing and superior reliability, all in a small footprint that will fit the demands of retail and food service operations. “Certified hardware is rigorously tested for conformance to and interoperability with PixelPoint software standards,” said Brad Goodbody, Marketing Specialist at PAR PixelPoint. “Certification will offer users confidence that the certified product conforms to the specifications and works accurately for reliable operation”.

“PixelPoint users can now take advantage of the industry’s highest ROI (return on investment) with the certification of BIXOLON, helping them to improve competitive advantage in the marketplace” said David Roberts, V.P. Sales and Marketing at BIXOLON America, Inc.
